The owner of the English Premier League team Fulham F.C. is Shahid "Shad" Khan , a Pakistani-born billionaire and automobile parts manufacturer (Flex-N-Gate) who lives and works in USA.

Khan's net worth is over $3.8 billion and earns him the 490th wealthiest person in the world as well as the richest person of Pakistani origin. Khan was once featured on the front cover of Forbes Magazine as “the face of the American Dream” (going from rags to riches by your own efforts).

Khan apparently enjoys the American dictum, “Think Big.”

In America, where he owns the National Football League's Jacksonville Jaguars he will partner with Daktronics to manufacture and install what it says will be the largest HD LED video displays in the world at each end zone of EverBank sports field in Florida.
