

Extron's New Era for Control

Written by Roger Douglas
20. 02. 2014

With the new Pro Series Control System, Extron offers more than 40 Pro Series control products-- all designed to make complex systems simpler and simple systems more powerful, and backed by the Extron Quality Guarantee and S3 customer support.

“With the introduction of Extron Pro Control Series, we are entering a new era for Extron configurable control where powerful hardware and software work together to accommodate more elaborate AV system designs,” says Casey Hall, VP Sales and Marketing for Extron. “At the heart of these new systems is Global Configurator Professional, which is loaded with advanced configuration tools including conditional logic, variables, and macros.”

The new Pro Series control products consists of 12 more powerful TouchLink Pro touchpanels in sizes from 3.5” to 15”, including five with “vibrant, capacitive touchscreens”...a TouchLink interface that allows a 3rd party touchscreens of any size to be used as a control interface within an Extron control system... 6 advanced and versatile IP Link Pro control processors... and Extron LinkLicense (allows people to use their mobile devices or computers as a primary control interface in an Extron control system).

Go Extron's Pro Series Control Systems